The Challenge of Biomedical Issues to the Contemporary Church

Advances in medical treatment modalities, biotechnological innovations, and genetic-molecular manipulations have brought about a set of unique challenging issues not faced by the Church before. A pastoral-theological approach is needed to examine, reflect and develop responses to these difficult moral and ethical issues such as test tube and designer babies, facts and fallacies of stem cell therapies, cloning, reproductive technologies, abortion, mercy-killing, allocation of scarce healthcare resources, living will, gene therapy, prenatal diagnosis, and aesthetic surgery.

Christians should be engaging personally with these issues and also help others to do so. A rational engagement is essential to all Christians who are committed to living ethically in these changing times.

Postgraduate Diploma in Counselling

Theories & Approaches in Marital and Family Counselling

Wales : WCETH73010

3 Jan – 27 Mar • Tue, 7pm–10pm

Esther Tzer Wong, M. Soc. Sci

Pre-requisite: PDC students and practitioners in the field

This course provides a presentation of the major theoretical underpinnings and clinical practices in the field of marital and family counselling. It will include evolving viewpoints, values, perspectives, key techniques of intervention and goals of family therapy, emphasizing the growing integrative nature of the current practice of marriage and family counselling in the local setting.

As postmodernism has introduced us to the influence of larger belief systems and the use of language in how people construct their thinking about reality and the functioning of marriage and the family, special attention will be given to counselling the Asian family in a multicultural, multi-religious setting.

Textbook: Goldenberg, Herbert and Goldenberg, Irene. Family Therapy: An Overview. 8th Edition. Belmont, CA: Thomson/Brooks/Cole, 2012.

Human Development

Wales : WCETH70010

4 Jan – 28 Mar • Wed, 7pm–10pm

Anita Chia, MDiv, MA (CC)

This course provides theories and basic framework for understanding human behaviour within a developmental and social context. Various developmental stages from infancy to the conception of death, and the environmental or cultural issues faced that may contribute to the problems presented of our clients will be explored.

Textbook: Papalia, D.E., Olds, S.W., & Feldman R.D. Human Development. 9th Edition. Boston: McGraw Hill, 2003.

Postgraduate Diploma in Counselling

Appraisal, Tests and Assessments

Wales : WCETH78010

14, 21 & 28 Jan • Sat, 8.30am–6pm

Sam Kuna, MA

This is an introductory course in research methods, psychological testing, and clinical assessment. It is designed to provide a foundation in assessment so beginning counsellors can select and use sound assessment techniques and be exposed to a variety of assessment areas and issues.

At the end of the course students will be expected to critically evaluate the use of research by others, appropriately use a variety of basic research methods to solve simple but real problems in their own practice, make appropriate referrals for psychological testing, apply the results of a psychological evaluation as described in a psychological report, and conduct appropriate assessments in their counselling practice.

Textbook: Whiston C. Susan. Principles and Applications of Assessment in Counselling. 3rd Edition. Brooks/Cole. Cengage Learning, 2009.

Practicum with Supervision

Wales : WCELB70320

6 months: Field Practice Classes on selected Saturdays

Esther Tzer Wong, M. Soc. Sci

Pre-requisite: Completed Core Clinical Skills 1 & 2

This course provides experiential learning alternating between agency setting, classroom work and individual review and reflection. Students are expected to apply their theoretical learning and knowledge base to the clients and families under their care in line with current professional and ethical codes of conduct.

Family-based Approaches to Counselling

TCA : TCETH73810

4 Jan – 28 Mar • Wed, 7pm–10pm

Danny Goh, PhD

Esther Tzer Wong, M. Soc. Sci

Pre-requisite: Completed PDC or equivalent

This course looks at the changing family life-cycle. It examines the foundation and pillars of marital and family life from an integrated, holistic perspective, blending biblical principles with the social sciences. It also deals with current issues of gender role changes, dual-career families, divorce and remarriage, etc, and its implications for the ministry.

Textbook: Carter, B. and McGoldrick, M. The Changing Family Life Cycle. 4th Edition. Pearson Education, 2010.

Gender and Sexuality

TCA : TCETH73210

9 Jan – 26 Mar • Mon, 7pm–10pm

Danny Goh, PhD

Pre-requisite: Completed PDC or equivalent

This course focuses explicitly on the issues of gender roles and the changing norms of gender and sexuality in modern society. Special emphases will be given on sexual issues like homosexuality, premarital and extra-marital problems, pornography, rape, sexual abuse and co-habitation.

Textbook: Jack Balswick & Judith Balswick. Authentic Human Sexuality: An Integrated Christian Approach. 2nd Edition. Intervarsity Press, 2008.

The Pentateuch

Wales : WDEBO50110

ATA : ADEBO20103/ADEBO50203

9 Jan – 26 Mar • Mon, 9am–12pm

Joseph Tan, PhD (studies)

The Pentateuch is fundamental to the faith of both Christians and Jews. The first five books of the Bible contain the familiar stories of creation, the fall and the flood. They tell of the origins of the human race and of the Jewish people. They include laws as basic as the Ten Commandments and as complex as the regulations for food and sacrifices. These books relate the call of Israel to be God's chosen people, yet hold out the prospect of universal salvation for all humankind.

Sat, 8.30am–3.30pm

Richard Goetz, PhD

(Students should contact the school for pre-module assignments)

Making the case for the Christian faith has always been part of the Church's mission. Yet Christians sometimes have had different approaches to defending the faith, responding to the needs of their respective times and framing their arguments to address the particular issues of their day. This module serves to be an excursus of intellectual argument for making sense of Christian faith and defending its reasonableness. It will examine the practice and importance of Christian apologetics in light of theological, historical and cultural concerns. Questions generated by Christians and non-Christians alike, such as the proof of existence of God, the tension between faith and reason, the problem of miracles, and suffering and evil will be discussed.

Biblical Theology of Missions

ATA : ADEMM60103

3 Jan – 27 Mar • Tue, 9am–12pm

Lily Lim, DMiss (studies)

This course explores the entire Bible to understand one of its most central themes: God's covenanted mission to all nations, peoples, and languages. The student will discover theological principles and foundations for ministry and cross-cultural missions. Biblical Theology is approached as a task-oriented discipline that equips people to serve effectively in God's mission to the world.
