

SIGNS AND WONDERS FOR TODAY?

PERSPECTIVES FROM ACTS

There seems to be a pattern in the Book of Acts where God uses miracles to bring about conversions. Is there a connection between signs and wonders and the multitudes which are added to God's Kingdom? Are signs and wonders normative for the church today? Do the people of God yearn for boldness in their witness and, do they desire for God to perform signs and wonders? In this seminar, we will explore the work of God in Acts, and reflect on signs and wonders as a witness to the gospel today.

20 Oct 2012 (Sat), 1pm – 4pm
TCA College

To register, email your full name to admin@tca.edu.sg by Wed, 17 Oct

Ms Lily Lim is pursuing her DMiss at Fuller Theological Seminary, USA and holds a ThM in Asian Christianity from Trinity Theological College, Singapore. Her research interest includes studying religious interactions in a pluralistic context. She teaches Religions and Missions at TCA College.

TCA College
Seminar
FREE
ADMISSION